“ Marshall was a great and funny guy. Always telling jokes and playing pranks. One time, his wife was in the shower and he got to come home early from work and opened all the kitchen cabinet doors and placed the chairs on top of the table. Then, he went outside and watched through the window and she came out and screaming and ran outside with just the towel on!!! And as he is telling us, he is laughing so hard he was crying and as we're listening I did the same. Just too funny!! And man could he cook and grow a garden. He will be missed!!!

“ I was fortunate to meet Marshall 2 years ago through my brother Rocky. During Rocky's surprise birthday party I sat and listened to many a story told by Marshall and Rocky. The following morning the family gathered for breakfast, and We all sat around the table visiting. It was easy to understand why Marshall was so loved and respected by my lit'l brother and Rhonda. On leaving Henderson to come home, I hugged Marshall and thanked him for being such a good friend to Rocky. He smiled and I gave him a big hug. He may have looked like a "good ole" East Texas man, but above thatI found him to be a gentleman. That was a great time had by all!

“ The dearest, closest, and best friend I "ever" had or ever will have. We grew up together, were inseperable as children,...shared life together, got our first bicycles together,...there was never two closer friends. My life is BETTER today for having had him as a part of it. It is heart breaking to realize that never again will I hear that laugh or that infectious personality he had. Duke was never one to put on "airs" around people. What you SAW was what you GOT. Never one to withhold his opinion in public. I love you buddy, know that NO ONE could ever take your space in my heart....Kenny

“ I spent many a night with Marshall, whether it was in a marked or unmarked patrol car at Henderson PD . Always was in a good mood and had a Joke to tell. And always made sure the microphone was not being keyed and we were not talking about someone !
