“ My fondest memory of Billy was at work. After the Texas seven escaped we had officers in extra posts outside the fence. My husband and Billy were working the highway gate. One of the officers posted in her vehicle called someone to relieve her for a restroom break. There were 2 port a pots at the highway gate. Instead of just going to take her post. Billy hooked the rover truck to the trailer that the port a pots were on and drove it to her. Seeing that go around the fence was hilarious.
