“ Our prayers are with you Donna and the family. A good man, a hard working man has gone to be with Jesus. He was also a man not afraid of a challenge. Remember the time at Sabine Pass I told him that he did not want to eat the red peppers that came with the chicken at the Chinese buffet? Almost immediately he picked one up and nibbled the end of it. Feeling no pain (probably because of the meds he was on) he then ate the whole thing! His face turned red, then he started gasping for air REALLY loudly, and he was banging his fist on the table. I've got to admit that my eyes were as big as saucers--I'd never seen anything like that. Wow, you could have heard a pin drop in that restaurant by the time he got his breath back. Sympathetic friends that we are, we immediately burst into hysterics and offered him another pepper. I've got to admit that he took it pretty well. Good times; good friends; good memories.... I sure am glad that this is not the end of it all.

“ I to gradated with Charles in 1961. I remember his mother was a nurse at the hospital in Henderson and that Charles looked just like her. I enjoyed his friendship all through our school years. My thoughts are with his family at this sad time.
