“ I got to meet my little sister maybe around 12 years ago. She was the most beautiful and happy girl and made me miss her immediately after leaving! Since then we've reconnected over the past few years and I absolutely loved how we had so much in common. Our girls were the same age, we had so much in common and even acted the same! We even looked very similar (different mothers) and I loved having a mini. For the past year I enjoyed having late night hours long talk sessions about anything and everything. I'm going to miss our FaceTime chats with the kids, and I'm so sad we will never get our mini vacation we planned. Chelsee was definitely the sister anyone would have been blessed to have.
