“ I was so sorry to hear about Debra's passing but thankful to know that she is no longer in pain. It's so comforting to know that she is in Heaven completely healed. Praying for her sweet family during this sad time and knowing that God will draw close to them and provide an overwhelming peace that surpasses all understanding. I hope that this time of mourning will be followed closely by a time of rejoicing in the amazing woman that Debra was and the incredibly legacy that she leaves behind. I am especially thankful for the memories that will live on through my mother, who loved Debra like a sister for many years. Love, Maggi Devoto

“ Debra was the sister I never had. She was my friend for as long as I can remember...since we were little girls. I will smile everytime I think of her and all the fun times we have shared. In nearly 50 of friendship, I think we had one disagreement...it was silly, and I do hope she forgave me. I will miss my BD cards she sent me every year, and I will miss her being on this earth...but I am so thankful she is no longer in any pain...and in the midst of our heavenly Father. We will see each other again, but until that day...my fond memories of my best friend will last forever!! Debra was a treasure to her family, and to all that knew her!! I thank her family for letting me spend this last year of her life visiting her in the hospital, and remembering.
