“ Edna was my first cousin but I always called her Aunt Edna. Her mother was my daddy’s sister. They lived across the pasture from our house. She was grown by the time I came along. I thought she was beautiful and like a movie star to me. Beautifully dressed, long manicured nails, high heels and a wonderful voice. I wanted to be just like her when I grew up! I live in Virginia but every time I was in Texas, I always went to visit her. Her mind was sharp and we were able to share many memories. The staff said they loved her and she was so sweet. I told her what they said and she answered, “Well, there is just no use in being ugly”.

I thank Brenda for being so good to tend to her needs.

“ The last of her Generation. It is difficult to see the old ones pass.

Rest in Peace!
