“ Donna, Brandi and all the family, Well the last of the "get up and go girls" is gone. Guess she was the winner! On Friday they would talk on the phone and just decide to head out to Shreveport, Tyler or Dallas the next morning. I can remember one Saturday they drug me along with them. It was Mother driving and Sooky in the front and Louise and Margaret in the back with me in the middle.. Just as we crossed into Louisiana there was an old pickup backed down in the ditch and as we got closer this man in dirty close, a dip of snuff and a little gun on got in the middle of the road and flagged us down. He said he was an official cotton boll worm inspector and he was going to have to inspect the car, trunk and occupants. Sooky leaned down in the seat and told him, "do we look like we had been in a cotton patch picking cotton?"Mother just rolled up the window and drove away.Norris-
