“ I’ve been blessed to call Gabe my friend for nearly three years. Over that time, we shared many deep conversations about the lives we once lived before knowing Christ, the challenges we faced, and the incredible transformation that comes when we walk with Him. My fondest memory with Gabe will always be the motorcycle ride we took together to Big Bear, California, for a men’s retreat. It wasn’t just the powerful teaching and fellowship at the event that made it special — it was the rides there and back, and the ones in between, that created moments I’ll treasure forever. Through knowing Gabe, I saw clearly that he loved his faith and his family more than anything else in this world. He was truly a new creation in Christ, and that change shone through in every part of his life. Of all the relationships I’ve had, Gabe will always rank among the very best. My heart misses him deeply, yet it rejoices knowing he is now home with our Heavenly Father. I can already picture him riding the Harley of his dreams in heaven. One day, by God’s grace, we will meet again — and I look forward to taking a heavenly ride together.
