“ When I was about 10 years old I was at Mammaw and Papaw’s house. Uncle Gary was outside lying under the truck doing some work on it. I walked over to him and said, “Uncle Gary what are you doing?” He replied and said, “Oh just piddlin.” And from then on I called him Uncle Piddlin. I love that memory and I love him.

“ I remember sitting in the living room and watching Uncle Gary step forward with one foot, look into the distance and recite a really long poem. My daughters were enthralled. Like Pappaw, Uncle Gary could tell a tale. I loved spending time with him and send my love to cousin Mike. I am sure the reunion is glorious!
