“ My son. I love you, and I think of you often. Never in a sad way, but with gratitude that I was allowed to experience what was given to me in you. Life is still a riddle 2 years later, but these days it is met with an acceptance that some things don't have to make sense to move forward. The answers and significance to a great deal of life's circumstances are only revealed as we continue to navigate the journey with willingness to love and gratitude for all we are allowed. I'm working on it. Love you Jack Jack.
