“ I am saddened by this loss and send sincerest condolences to the family. Joel was a prince of a guy, a fellow Longhorn and Democrat, and long-time friend of my parents Helen and Clyde Willbern. Joel and my dad were the best of friends. I will personally miss his witty Christmas card notes, funny quips on the phone, and my too infrequent visits to his home in Bellaire where we laughed about politics and reminisced about the regulars at the Bellaire Coffee Shop and all those years when they argued local politics and solved the problems of the world. My heart smiles at the memories.
