“ I was so very sad to learn of Mr. Seeburg's passing this morning when I was at the Price Post Office. I didn't get to see him often but when I did it was an occasion to remember. He was quite a lovely man and a very interesting one. I loved his stories from his past with the CIA and FBI. I told him several times that he needed to write all of his fascinating law enforcement memories down for future generations. I was lucky enough, when I lived in Athens, Texas, to meet, and get to know, retired Henderson County Sheriff Jess Sweeten, who passed away in 1980. A good man too and a famous peace officer in Texas. I hope he and Mr. Seeburg are getting to swap stories in Heaven. I will surely miss my encounters with Mr. Seeburg and am so sorry for this hard loss to his family and care givers. There is just something about a man who devotes his life to the safety of others that makes them special to all. Nancy Curtis, Price, Texas
