“ Please accept my sincere condolence over the loss of your dear baby. I don't know your family personally; however I wanted to share some words of encouragement. May you gain comfort from the wonderful hope the Bible holds out at John 5:28, 29 - “Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out”.

“ Dear Cassady and Matt, This was given to me when I suffered a great loss and has given me comfort through the years. "Do not fear the changes of life. God whose very own you are will deliver you out of them. He has kept you hitherto and he will lead you safely through all things. And when you cannot stand it, God will bury you in his arms. Do not be afraid of what may happen tomorrow. The same everlasting Father who cares for you today will care for you then and every day. He will either shield you from suffering or give you unfailing strength to bear it. Be at peace and put aside anxious thoughts and imaginations." St. Francis de Sales 1567-1622 Love and peace, Tish

“ Cass & Matt~Josey & you two have been in my prayers so much these days. I know my simple words can ease your hurt, but every time you all have been on my mind, I stop what I'm doing and pray for you...Cass, you know I'm not one to quote scriptures, but one I found one that I hope will offer you some comfort:Matthew 5:4Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.Love you, Elisabeth
