“ I worked with Marc for about 10 years at his last job at the Jefferson County Economic Development Corporation. He was always a real character with a great sense of humor. During staff meetings, it seemed he would always chime in with a bit of "southern flavor" that would stop the conversation dead in its tracks. We'll miss his stories about his cousin Cornbread, and we'll continue to joke about going to the "picture show" wearing "short pants." He left us too early, but he left us with a smile when we think of him.
