Richard was a great friend and a big asset to Henderson Memorial Hospital Emergency Medical Services and the Volunteer Fire Departments of Rusk County. He kept our communications up and running.

“ I worked for a communications distributor in the late 90's to mid 2000's. Richard was one of my customers and I spoke to him almost every week, sometimes two or three times per week. I always recognized his distinct voice and introduction when he called. He was always a joy to talk to and I even had the pleasure of meeting him face to face on a couple of occasions when he made his way to the Dallas area. He always had great words of advise for me as I was a young kid just getting my career started. He was a very good man who I was lucky to have met.

“ Richard K5RRB was a good friend to many people in our HAM radio community. Richard had the idea to change a radio gift exchange into a "Toys for tots" donation to the USMC's generous Christmas toy drive. Richard set up a North Pole Santa radio program for kids to talk to Santa. He had a heart for children and helping others.

My sincere condolences to Richard's loved ones.

“ Richard was a faithful and loyal friend to a very many people. He was always willing to help in any way he could for those who needed his help. Part of attending church services was seeing and greeting him as he was always there when his health permitted. We certainly will miss him.

“Richard and I were good friends. I first met Richard at church as one of the greeters at the front entrance. We became close after we were in a Bible study together. One day I happened to mention that I was trying to repair some old electronic gear from the 60's, and that is when I found out that we had a lot of common interests.

Richard had an “Expert” amateur radio license (the highest) and was President of the HAM Club in Longview. We were both teenagers in the 60's when electronics changed over from tubes to transistors. We both had built Heathkit and Knightkit electronic gear because then it was ½ the price of a unit that was completely assembled.

We had a lot of fun reminiscing the old days and the old equipment. We would talk and laugh about some of the situations we encountered. Because of his knowledge, he could come up with cost effective solutions to some difficult problems. With electronics you have to understand the circuits that you use, the networks involved, and how to keep them working. Richard could do this well.

After his heart attack, he began to slow down. Even with the suffering he was going through, he still had a positive outlook and strong faith in God. He still serviced communication systems as long as his strength held out.

The community will miss his radio knowledge, and I will miss seeing and talking to my good friend.

“ We will always remember Richard as a kind caring man. He was always so sweet to our Mother Dear when he drove the bus and after she could not attend anymore I never saw him that he didn't ask about her. He will be missed. Prayers for his family.
