“ Grandpa was rugged, tough, determined and strong. But also he was funny, sweet, kind and caring. He always greeted you with big smile and was genuinely excited to see you. He always had a project he just did or was working on and he loved to show it off. He was so dedicated if he had a injury he'd just wrap it in a dirty rag and keep on working. Along with that he always had a manicured lawn which he was proud of. He loved to see and play with his grandchildren. Grandpa was the last of a dying breed, they don't make them like they used to. Until we meet again, we love and miss you!

Your Grandson,
Chris Reed

“ I remember when I met this man my Aunt had married. We visited them in Houston when I was in my early teens. At the dinner table he very strongly corrected some infraction of table manners that I had made and I wasn't quite sure what to make of this new Uncle. Over the years I got to have some wonderful visits with him where I learned more about his sense of humor and his love of life. I also saw how happy he and Aunt Anna were over the years. I loved him and will miss him. While I can't be there in person, my love, my thoughts, and my prayers are with the family.

“ My daddy was such a loving man, not afraid to say the I love you's. His big smile will always be etched in my mind. He was as strong as a bear and lead our family with sound advise and love to the very end. There is no doubt that he was carried by the angels to the city of pure gold and I long for the day to see him again.

“ My grandpa was the most loving, strongest man I've ever known. I always told people that he was a real life popeye. He loved life, laughter and his family and had the most beautiful smile and a contagious laugh. I will always love and miss you! 🥰

*It breaks my heart grandpa is gone it seems so unreal.
He left us with such beautiful memories that will always be shared amongst family and friends even strangers.
Grandpa was such a hardworking go getter man
His heart was so big and so open to everyone.
He had so much joy to give he always left you with a smile after a visit.
Our last days with him were so hard but, i prayed and prayed to the lord to give us another beautiful moment with him to see him happy.
The very next day he was awake with us all afternoon
Laughing and joking around like always he had that great BIG smile like there were no worries in the world.
Thank you lord for giving us another day with him.
I have learned so much from him from love to strength and much more
I love you grandpa you will never be forgotten and,our memories of you will live forever passed down.*
