“ Shirley and Family, we are saddened to hear of Scott's passing. We would have been there, but Bill had to be in Vanderbilt Med Center for his annual evaluation. We have kept you all in our prayers and will continue to do so. Heaven has gained a good man. We love you all.

Its been 3 months and 3 days today. I'm still crying and trying not to. I miss his whole existence cause it was mine too. I miss his sparkling Smile, his soft voice, his reassurance that " I Gat This Baby", his Strength, mostly his LOVE!

“ I had the honor of working with Scott here @ KISD. My thoughts and prayers are with the friends and family of Scott. He will be missed dearly by his co-workers; and I will definitely miss him popping in to say hey as he walked out with his to-go plate full of Mrs. Dorothy's yummiie cooking every Thursday.

May God bless you with peace and comfort.

Scott, my husband, my best friend, my rock, my sunshine, my stability, my soul mate, my shining star. I was able to tell Scott how much I loved him in the short time I had with him last Friday, Thank God! I went to see him on Sunday (2nd hardest day of my life) when back home, about 2:am I walked out on our back porch I Thanked God through Jesus Christ, then I looked up into the sky and said "I love you Scott and at that very instant a shooting star came down over our peacock pin and down through our oak trees. I screamed with joy, God let hem tell me I love you too. He was born in a sudden storm, he left this world in a Great Bright Light! Pluto has a heart shape that belongs to me. I miss you Baby!?!?"
