“ Shirley Ann Fountain Thompson laughed whenever I called her by her full name. I met Shirley while yet a teenager and watched her marry my brother and have two loving sons. When we met, Shirley was kind, loving, and very pretty—and she stayed kind, loving, and pretty for the next 50 something years. Shirley will be missed by the Thompson clan, as well as the Fountain clan. We loved her and appreciated her gentle and sweet nature. Shirley will be dearly missed.

“ Shirley’s parents were my great aunt and uncle. When I was a tweenager and Shirley was 5 years older, I would visit and she would play with and entertain me. She had a play house set up in an out building and I thought we were so grown up when we played there. I remember the steep front steps to the house and sitting on the back porch. She and all her siblings were soft spoken, sweet and gentle. Sincere sympathy to the family.

My aunt, Shirley, was probably better to my ornery uncle than he deserved and I say this with all the love in my heart for both of them. I was there when the courtship turned into love and being the beloved niece, I gave my consent. I don't think my uncle could have found a sweeter and more loving Christianly woman who loved him with a passion greater than life. Throughout my life as their family, I have been so grateful that Robert chose Shirley as I told him to....LOL. The memories that I will take away from having them as my family is the love they shared between the two of them.
