“ I am sorry to read of your loss. Losing a loved one can be difficult. The Bible has some encouraging words found at Acts chapter 24 verse 15, there it says, "And I have hope toward God, which hope these men also look forward to, that there is going to be a resurrection of both the righteous and the unrighteous." May this be of encouragement during this difficult time.

“ We weep today because in our small part of the world God took a big part of our hearts to heaven. Although she was not her real self the past few years, I never knew a woman that loved her husband and children and extended family more than this woman. She was the light in a dark room! She had a loving and giving heart and soul. The love she shared with her husband of 72 years has been an inspiration to us all. The love Tommie Louise and Doug had for each other was more special than any words could ever express. Doug said it well when he said "she will be missed". She will be missed and there is a hole in our hearts that will never be filled now that she is gone. Doug also said that she was in a better place and would be watching over us all. Selfishly I'd rather have her here comforting the love of her life and her family!

“ Sandi, Karen, Nancy, and Gary, So sad for your heavy hearts during this time. Losing a parent, someone who has always been there, seems so unnatural to experience; yet we have the assurance that someday we will be together again. Take care of yourselves because you know that is what your sweet mother would want you to do. Prayers for all of you and your precious daddy. Love you,
