“ There are almost 24 years of memories! I remember coming home one night from work you were about a year old! You waited up for me so you could have some ice cream! You were so sleepy! I sat you on the kitchen floor and you started eating it! You had gotten chilled from it and you were shivering and about to fall asleep! I gave you another warm bath and put you in bed! So many memories so many memories that were yet to be made! My heart breaks every morning when I wake up to realize you are gone! I will not see you again until my time comes! I should not have had to bury you it was supposed to be me first! You are my baby! I love you more than life! So many could haves and should haves! I'm so glad I told you at every opportunity I loved you! I pray that you carried that with you! This pain is endless a black hole! Saying good bye is something I thought I would never have to do! So I will never say it! Until we are together again! Rest in the arms of heavens angels my baby! As your brothers in arms say " stand down marine we will take the watch"! I am and always will be so very proud of you! My marine my son!

“ Trey was always one of my better friends. Kinda drifted apart and didn't talk as much in high school but I remember him always goofing around, a constantly happy demeanor. Was hoping to catch up with him some time when we were both home on leave at the same time. Trey was a damn good Marine, but more importantly, he was a great person. Truly sorry for your loss, and if I had the funds I'd be driving back to Texas right now to be there for the funeral and show support.

“ There are so many things I want to say, so much memories I want to share. All I can say now is that I could never imagine how my life would have been if Trey never took part in it. Every morning I wake up and think that this is all just a nightmare. He shared everything with me, & I just want you all to know how much he cared about you all. Just remember that he loved you, & this didn't happen because of you. Trey went thru a lot that he chose to keep to himself, but he stayed strong for so long. I love you, Trey. Even after we split, I'm glad we remained friends. May you rest in peace, until we meet again.

“ As I sit here and remember how we were growing up, the more I miss you. I know growing up we always fought, but that didn't mean I didn't love you. When I went away in the Navy and found out you joined the Marine Corps, I was proud. I was the proud big sister that my little brother had the bravery to join the toughest branch of military. I wish I could tell you now how proud I was of your choice. You grew up to be a wonderful man, that mom is so proud of. When you spent time with Aubrey, that made my world, seeing how well you two got along. She loves her uncle, and she will miss you, but she will grow up knowing that her Uncle Trey was a GREAT man. I wish I would have told you more often that I loved you. You went to soon little brother, but I know you will watch over us. I love you Trey.

“Trey you were an incredible man and I'm so sorry I did not tell you I loved you often.. But you are the person I waited with every morning to get on the bus, I don't know how many times we missed it and ran up the road with our instruments in hand.. We did everything together and I know you looked up to me but honestly I did to you as well.. We talked about sports 90% of the time and argued the other 10%.. I'm so proud of everything you did and the person you became, I always knew you had hard memories and wish I could've comforted you and been there to help.. I do love you and wish you were here talking sports with me.. My last memory with you was going to gander mountain with you so you could buy your pistol and there are just so many memories that run through my head.. You, Ricky and I were inseparable and I wish that I could rewind time and just us three hangout but that can't happen.. You were such a momma's boy and it breaks my heart seeing what she's going through BC of this so comfort her. I will never forget the memories we have. I love you little bro your gone to soon..

Brandon, I know how much you cared about your brother and you talked about him often and how much you worried about him. I know that you will miss him and so will your mom and sister and brother. I can't even imagine any of this. It hurts so bad to lose a loved one but a brother, a young brother at that, must be hard. It's not like a grandparent who has been sick and you know it's coming. This was a major shock and I hope God heals all of your wounds. Praying for your family!
