“ Warren and I were in same Sunday School class at First Methodist Fort Worth. He liked to joke, laugh, kid around, and now see his spiritual life was growing and deepening. We graduated Arlington Heights High School, 1959. He reached for joy and happiness throughout his life.

“ I remember my father telling me about him in the 1980s in Tyler. Warren would sneak up behind him when he would see him out at Brookshire's or out in town somewhere, and say something funny. My dad mentioned to me Warren had been hit by a car two or three different times, crossing a street or parking lot. I know he got hurt physically by those, but it didn't stop him in doing funny and positive things. Dad liked him a lot.

“ I was in Mr. Powell's math class I remember him bringing croutons to ETCS and us loving them. He always had a funny story or something to make our days a little better. He honestly was one of my favorite teachers in school. He helped turn my way of thinking around so much. He will be missed... Thank you Mr. Powell for changing my life through teaching and helping me learn...

“ He is the first one who ever believed in me. After a long battle of addiction he met me when I was sober and scared. He walked me through life in college and we kept in contact for the last 11 years. If it wasn't for him I would've never graduated college. He supported my ministry and was always a sound voice for my heart. The love he had for Marybeth was breath taking. Mr.P, you save me a seat ok.

“ I went to high school with Warren. His best friends were my husband Bob Sager and Bob McLean. We spent a lot of time at the Eagle's nest. When some one new joined us Warren would always go under water and come up with seaweed under his arm pits. You can believe his humor definitely started in High School. Often when I went on a date with Bob Sager, Warren and Bob McLean would be in the back seat. Three great guys. Now only one left. Judy Sager

“ It’s taken me awhile to try to come up with the words to adequately describe what this man meant to me and my daughter, Addison (who he nicknamed Root Beer) but I’ve come to the conclusion that’s not going to happen. There are no words. The first time I remember meeting Warren was in the waiting room of a doctors office. I had heard great things about this man but never had the privilege of meeting him until this day when he handed me a business card and told me he could provide me a free service. At first I wondered what in the world he was talking about but then I read the card and it said Free Taste Testers - you provide us dinner, hopefully with a dessert, and we will give you our honest opinion free of charge! Ironically, I found that card Sunday when I was cleaning out a drawer and it made me smile and I knew I couldn’t throw it away because the next time I find it, it will make me smile again. Little did I know, less than 24 hours later I would find out he had passed away. Mr. P, I will never be able to tell you what a difference you made in our lives. Addison went from hating math to acing it her 8th grade year all because of you! After we moved, I can’t tell you how many times she said I wish I could go to Mr. Powell’s house. But it wasn’t just math - it was so many other things. You made her laugh. You made her think. You shared your love of your sweet dogs with her (she kept the video you sent to her) You made her feel like she was the only kid you ever knew or cared about but I know you made each kid feel the very same way. There’s never been another one like you in our lives and we will miss you terribly but we smile because you left us with incredible memories, and most importantly, because we know we will see you again! Much love to Mary Beth and your boys!

“ Mr. Powell was a wonderful person; Always bringing fun to the table and a sense of lightheartedness in a world looking for bad. He and Mrs. Powell were such a wonderful example of what true love looks like. He also played a very important role in my daughter's math journey. We are so grateful for him and Mrs. Powell for their help. He will definitely be missed.

“ Mary Beth, my heart goes out to you. I could write about what a great teaching team you and Warren were, and it would all be true, but the most powerful impression I have about y'all was what a sweet relationship you had. It was obvious to anyone who spent at least five minutes in your presence that you were deeply in love with each other, like a pair of newlyweds.

I feel inadequate to be of comfort to you in your loss. I'm praying for you, trusting that God will give you the comfort only He can provide. Maybe I can be a vessel for Him, when you are ready. Meanwhile, you will be constantly in my prayers.

“ Mr. Powell was certainly one of the kindest, most engaging and sincere people we've ever known. He loved to talk. He definitely had a sense of humor with his puns and his witticisms. He helped our grandson so much. It was our great blessing to get to know him and Mary Beth a couple years ago. We will miss him greatly. RIP our good and faithful friend.

“ I've only known Warren 6 to 9 months through church. We had many conversations and the one thing I can tell for sure is that he had a great sense of humor. Sometimes he would put a zinger out there and if you weren't paying attention it would hit you 30 seconds later. I enjoyed getting to know him and wish I had longer but he was a really great guy. Praying for peace in and through your family.

“ I had Mr. Powell as a math at TJC. He was always finding ways to help each one of us learn and always made math fun (if anyone could have done that it was him). He always would bring in his peanut butter and Mayo sandwich and try to get us to try it. He was an amazing amazing man so loving and caring. I know he is resting in the arms of his Savior that he loved so much. Prayers for his family, but be comforted that he his with Jesus and we will see him again someday.

“ My fondest memories of Warren was when my dad was in the hospital. Warren would come up there almost every day if not every day to talk to my dad while he was in a coma. He would tell my dad jokes and would always pray for my dad. I have always remembered this and was very thankful for his friendship to my dad during his last days. Warren was very special to our family and he will be missed. I just know he is in heaven with my dad telling jokes. My prayers to his family.

I always teased him about working there. I know he made a big impact on many and probably doesn't even know it. His love for Christ was so apparent. What a legacy. He will be missed. Will be praying for Mary Beth and family in the days ahead.*

“ I remember Warren from our time as students at Arlington Heights High School in Fort Worth, TX. He was 2 years ahead of me, in the same class as my husband, and we shared several classes. Many years later, when I moved to Tyler, I was surprised to find Warren here in addition to a couple of others from Heights. Later, he moved to Henderson & married Mary Beth, whom he always spoke of so highly & with such great affection. My heart goes out to his family as they process this loss & find a way to go on without him. I know he's left them with many good memories & I know from experience those will sustain them as they go forward. RIP, Warren - you were one of a kind.

Pride Mary and I spent time with Warren and Mary Beth last time we were in East Texas and parked our road trip RV in their yard. I remember Warren will always be in my mind a teacher the way he went about showing and explaining things. He was excellent tutor I'm sure with the kids and we go back to artisan heights high School same same class same age and we were the same age.

I remember last time we were there we spent time including going to church with them. Warren and Mary Beth knew all the greatest places to eat and we made a goodly number of them the times we were with him and Henderson. My bride is from Nacogdoches, Texas. I remember one of several times we spent at kinfolk restaurant and Warren always wanted to go up to the counter and see what the complete choice of desserts look like, not just the menu. He was a hoot at times and God loves you Mary Beth and Warren and we love you both also! Brother Jack

“ Oh my gosh. I am heartbroken to hear of the passing of Warren. Back in the seventies I had gotten to know him very well thru The Firehouse Coffeehouse, a Christian coffee house here in Sioux Falls, SD. What an awesome, gregarious, fun man who is so witty, and a lover of God. So very sorry to Mary Beth and family.

Warren was a character and blessing the moment he came into the Gentry/McCleskey family. I will always remember Mary Beth and Warren's Beautiful Wedding in the backyard that Spring.
